

Naomi is a former corporate IT manager, award winning TAFE trainer and professional singer, turned bestselling author, international speaker, and internationally certified results coach.

When a botched cancer operation abruptly ended her professional singing career, Naomi refused to be defined by setbacks. Instead, she discovered a new purpose in sharing her story of resilience and renewal. From stages across the world, Naomi's powerful message has captivated audiences.

With a background as a corporate manager and award-winning trainer, Naomi's experiences have shaped her into a resilient and determined leader. Her ability to thrive amidst adversity is a testament to her strength and perseverance, inspiring others to overcome their own challenges and reach their full potential.

Her book, "Start Living - from frazzled to fabulous!," soared to No. 1 in 14 Amazon categories worldwide, a testament to the universal resonance of her message.
