Allerzyme is a vegan-friendly enzyme complex that supports healthy digestion. It is infused with ginger vitality, peppermint vitality, and other oils that support proper digestion, waste elimination, and nutrient utilization. It was specifically formulated with those with gluten and dairy sensitivities in mind.

Allerzyme contains enzymes such as protease 3, 4.5 and 6, which are known to help digest protein; amylase, which digests starch, carbohydrates and sugars; and invertase, which assists in the breakdown of sugars. It also contains lipase, which helps digest fat; peptidase, which converts proteins into amino acids; phytase, which helps absorb nutrition from grains and seeds; and additional enzymes that target animal protein, dairy, beans, legumes, seeds, and soy.

These enzymes, combined with seven essential oils, make Allerzyme a necessary staple for healthy digestion and overall wellness.

- ½ tablespoon Thieves Dish Soap
- 2 drops Thieves essential oil blend

Here's what you'll do:

1. Combine all liquid ingredients in the spray bottle (we'll use the baking soda in the next step.)
2. Making sure to avoid the heating elements in your oven, sprinkle baking soda liberally on the bottom of the oven, then spray with the liquid mixture.
3. Let mixture sit until it stops bubbling.
4. Scrub stubborn spots with a sponge.
5. Wipe off the rest of the cleaner.

Repeat as needed!

GREEN TEAM'S ZERO-WASTE TIP

Ramp up your recycling efforts! We're offering local solutions and helpful information to make it simple for YL teams to keep their waste from piling up in landfills!

Did you know that March 18 is Global Recycling Day? If you haven't started recycling in your home, it's a great time to start. If you're already recycling like a pro, try amping your efforts by encouraging friends and neighbors to reduce, reuse, and recycle. Check out these tips on how you can lead your community in recycling:

ONE-LESS SUGGESTION

Eliminate even more waste from your life by moving on to reusable napkins and keeping paper plates and plastic utensils out of your shopping cart. Paper napkins and paper plates aren't recyclable because they come in contact with food waste, grease, and possibly bodily fluids. Don't keep them in your home and you won't have to worry about the fact that they can't be recycled!

TRY USING iRECYCLE!

This location-based app will help you find the closest place to drop your recyclables—especially helpful for things that you might not be able to toss directly into your bin. iRecycle is available for iPhone and Android.

DON'T TOSS YOUR FOOD WASTE

Put it to work when you start composting! Your garden—or a community garden—will thank you for your nutrient-rich soil.

Not all organic matter should hit your compost bin. Fruits and veggies? Absolutely. Meat and dairy? Not so much.

Use coffee grounds to enrich your soil. Reach out to a local cafe after a busy day for any they were planning to toss.

Be part of the solution on Global Recycling Day and join YL in putting the earth first.
