

Elder Karen Lynette Jennings

Elder Karen Lynette Jennings, of Pure Song, LLC., is the mother of three, a teacher, singer, songwriter, psalmist, and a dynamically profound and seasoned worship leader and intercessor. Her voice is anointed and when she sings, she ushers in the presence of the Lord, and the melodies in her mouth bring peace and healing. In November 2021, she released her first musical recording entitled, Healing Waters, Vol. 1 fortified with Ezekiel 47:9, “for they will be healed, and everything will live, wherever the river goes.”

At the age of eight, Karen discovered her voice, and her love for singing was ignited by a choir director, who prompted her to sing before the congregation. Karen began singing professionally at the age of 16. She sang on Dr. Judith MacCallister’s “Sound the Trumpet” CD, Agape Family Worship’s “Azamar” albums 1 & 2 (with James Hall, Kurt Carr, Donnie McClurkin, Tramaine Hawkins, and other distinguished gospel artists).

Elder Karen Jennings is a unique and powerful educator. Her presence and demeanor are peace-filled, and she’s graced with a divine anointing to usher in the Presence of the Lord. Elder Karen is a graduate of Oral Roberts University. By day, she lends her anointing, gifts, talents, and professional training as a teacher in the New Jersey public school system. God be praised for the seeds of righteousness that are planted in her classrooms.
