Her compassion and desire are to see people freed and delivered from sin and walking in their God-given purpose. In 2016, Evangelist Belinda Avant birthed a ministry called The Lady in Waiting Ministry. This ministry facilitates an annual women's conference with a focus to empower, instruct, and encourage women to step into their destinies. This is done all for the perfecting of the saints, doing the work of ministry together, and edifying the body of Christ. (Ephesians 4:11-12).

As a visionary, Evangelist Belinda Avant believes that everyone has a purpose in life, so she developed an empowerment website for women that points them to their purposes (purposed4destiny.com). She currently teaches multiple discipleship series on a virtual, online campus: Through the Bible in One Year, Using Your Spiritual Gifts, and Spiritual Warfare. You can follow her ministry channel on YouTube, Facebook, or Instagram.

Evangelist Belinda Avant also loves to write; she has written and produced two stage plays: "Comin' Out of My Cocoon" and "Broken, But Not Forgotten", which debuted in 2018 at The African American Museum of Nassau County for a fundraising event to support the "Feed the Hungry Campaign". Currently, Evangelist Avant is writing her first book, "Trust the Process" which mirrors her testimony, 'My pain produced my purpose; my purpose produced my praise'!!

Evangelist Belinda is a jewel to the Kingdom of God; she always seeks to bless someone. Evangelist Belinda Avant freely received healing, salvation, deliverance, and more from Heaven and she never shrinks back from the opportunity to give back through her time, talents, and treasure. Evangelist Belinda Avant is a woman of integrity, humility, and power. She lives the Word and loves the Lord. Her praise is contagious, her worship is authentic, and her joy is exuberant.
